

Josh Hankey

President and CEO

Throughout his career, Josh has consistently driven purposeful redevelopment. Serving in the Army in Baltimore, Josh was inspired by its urban revitalization to purchase and transform a three-unit dwelling. Thus began a pattern of buying, renovating and selling nine homes. These successes motivated him to return to his native York County in 2009 to launch Susquehanna Renovations. He built a team that specialized in renovating multi-unit buildings and custom design/build interiors.

Five years later, he merged this talent into Royal Square Development & Construction and garnered like-minded partners. By empowering local entrepreneurship, Josh has propelled RSDC to the forefront of one of the greatest urban Renaissance projects in York's history.

As Managing Partner of three real estate investment portfolios, Josh oversees 53 properties in three states, 45 of which are in York City. He is passionate about revitalizing urban areas, such as RSDC's redevelopment of nine buildings on East King Street in York and a comprehensive revitalization plan for his firm's Royal Square neighborhood.

A resident of York City, Josh is a member of six community organizations and serves as President of the Board of Directors of The Parliament.